GIRLS WHO GAME

BY DELL TECHNOLOGIES

Join Girls Who Game this fall and winter for a special New Brunswick cohort!

Over five sessions from October to February, you'll team up with other girls across the province to build skills in coding, creativity, collaboration, and problem-solving through Minecraft Education.

Each month, one session will take place onsite in a different district, with up to 25 girls attending in person and 75 joining online. Girls are expected to attend all four learning sessions - including the onsite session in their community. Then they will come together for a celebration to share their learning, connect with each other, and celebrate everything they created!

If you love gaming, want to learn how to code, and are ready to build your confidence while creating something awesome with new friends, this is your chance to be part of Girls Who Game.
